LOOK WHAT NC HAS TO OFFER

From lush rolling hills and beachy seaside towns to bustling cityscapes and picturesque farm houses, North Carolina has a variety of locations to set the scene. Add in a 25% rebate, outstanding crew, and a well-established infrastructure—it's no wonder it's home to so many well-known productions. Discover more about why North Carolina is right for your next project.

A PEEK INTO THE PERKS

North Carolina offers a generous 25% rebate on a production's direct in-state spend. Funded through the N.C. Film & Entertainment Grant, this program has no sunset date and applicable funding for any and all projects. Even better, once ready for payout, the production is paid directly by the State. Discover the program highlights below and delve deeper on the following page.

MORE BUILT-IN BENEFITS

While the 25% rebate is a plus, it's the people and strong infrastructure that make the difference. North Carolina boasts more than 3,700* trained and experienced crew members, 1,200* support service businesses and two multistage purpose-built facilities: Cinespace Studios-Wilmington and Dark Horse Studios.

Getting to North Carolina is also easy. All four International airports have direct flights to/from the greater New York City area, and two have direct flights to/from the Los Angeles area. Once here, out-of-towners can discover award-winning dining, scenic beauty and some of the hidden gems that make North Carolina one of the nation's top 10 most visited states.
